HOW WE DO IT

1. Connect with partners on the ground through referral from the Kenyan Children's Department

2. We assess each partner's ability to handle a project, and if they are not ready, we provide guidance and training to improve their standards and commitment.

3. Once partnered, we mutually decide on projects that will address a pressing need for the children, from clean water to access to education

4. We provide training and support for a minimum of 2 years to ensure project success

5. The projects allow our partners to reach self sufficiency and focus on the quality of care they provide to the children as well as enriching the entire community

IMPACT

1000

Over 1,000 Kenyan children have been directly affected by our projects children have been reunited with their families in the past 2 years through the launch of our reintegration program. Our partnership with the Kenyan Ministry of Children has helped made this possible.

54

GREENHOUSES DOING GOOD

We have 10 Large scale greenhouses currently active in the country, in 3 different regions. Our farms are now used by the Department of Agriculture as training grounds to inspire communities to grow their own food.

The greenhouses have generated over $12,000 US in 2017-2018 from the sale of excess produce alone. Our farms sell to local grocery stores and 5-star resorts who wish to source local and serve organic produce as well as support our cause.

WHY WE DO IT

We believe in children! Data and studies show that, while they are in an orphanage, they in a critical point in their lives when they need the most support and resources to grow into happy healthy productive members of the greater global community. We emphasize the reunification of families and prevention programs as well.

We have seen through experience in the field that through sustainability we can achieve long term change and truly empower the communities to transform as a whole.
